R. D. WILLIAMSON CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

A political announcement of much interest to the county was made Tuesday when R. D. Williamson, the well-known sheep breeder and farmer, announced for the Republican nomination for State Representative from this county at the primary to be held August 5th.

Mr. Williamson is well and favorably known in the county and probably no other citizen has as wide a speaking acquaintance.

There is more than one reason to be assigned to this. His commanding position as a successful farmer and one of the leading sheep and cattle breeders of the county keeps him in constant touch with the people of an agricultural county like Greene.

Another reason for Mr. Williamson being so well known was his long and faithful service on the Greene County Agricultural Board in the conduct of the county fair. For twelve years he was a member of the board of county commissioners and also served as a member of the State Board of Agriculture.

For several weeks leading members of the Greene County Farm Bureau, the Granges and other agricultural interests have been canvassing the county for a farmer with wide business experience to enter the race for state representative, feeling that the time had come for such a man in the legislative halls to see that the farming interests get a better deal at the hands of the coming legislature than has been given in the past.

Mr. Williamson already has been assured of strong support among the agriculture leaders in the county as well as other interests. He does not become a candidate of the farming interests to the detriment of other business interests. It is farming interests that most need relief at this time and in Mr. Williamson the county would have a member of the legislature that would possess enough executive ability to take the lead.

GEO. HENKLE TO LOCATE IN SOUTH CHARLESTON

George Henkle is now going to wait on Henry Ford's arrival at South Charleston, thereby making that town the object of all smaller towns in the state as to overnight growth and importance in the commercial world. George is planning in advance. He is going to be prepared for the rush and will settle in business in that town at once. He has purchased a grocery and will conduct a retail meat business in connection. He has employed Russ McClellan who leaves the Fringle meat store Saturday to become associated with Mr. Henkle.

CHARLES M. HARRIS DIED SUDDENLY SATURDAY

Charles M. Harris, aged 78, died very suddenly last Saturday morning at his home following an attack of heart trouble. He had been working in his garden and upon coming into the house complained to his wife about being cold. Dr. J. O. Stewart was called but he was beyond medical aid.

Mr. Harris for a number of years resided on a farm east of town and had resided in this community most of his life.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Graham and Miss Ethel Harris at home.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the late home, the services being in charge of Rev. Stevens, assisted by Rev. White. Burial took place in North cemetery.

WONDERFUL RECORD OF TWO FAITHFUL OFFICERS

Law enforcement is much on the minds of the public today. An incident of what two men have done in this respect, has a local connection.

George Ruder and Howard Gatten have been doing team work for the detective bureau in Columbus since June 16, 1920. They were assigned to care for the theft of automobiles and a wonderful work they have done.

Since that date 1697 automobiles have been reported stolen to them. Of this number 1552 have been recovered and but 145 unaccounted for. Previous to that time they had recovered 29 autos and from this were given charge of that department. They have been responsible for the capture and conviction of 235 automobile thieves. But their attention was not altogether devoted to autos for they had time to make 769 other arrests for different offenses. They also in their work found 206 foreign cars that had been stolen and returned to their owners.

It is with some pride that we give these men more than honorable mention because it was they that discovered the Editor's car that was stolen June 12, 1921 and two men sent to the pen for fifteen years each.

These young men were more than mere officers drawing a salary. They possessed a clean-cut appearance of men of the highest type and men of most excellent character. They never took anything for granted. Nothing but undoubted evidence of guilt went with them. They never "framed" a prisoner, and from this no doubt can be traced the foundation of their most unusual success.

In a visit with them to the Franklin county jail once we were permitted to enter the corridor where more than 200 prisoners were quartered. They no sooner than entered until professional criminals who had come to know them began to greet them with "Hello, Rude", "Hello, Gatt". In conversation with one prisoner we found that few criminals ever held a grudge against this pair of detectives due to the fact that they were always square with the prisoner before and during trials.

This detective team is now to be broken up due to the fact that Mr. Gatten has resigned to enter business in Cincinnati. It is to be regretted that Columbus or any city should lose the services of such men. The automobile owners of Ohio owe much to them for there are few men that probably can fill their places. There is little reward given the faithful officer who not only risks his life but for days goes without sleep or even seeing his family when out on an assignment.

30TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION TO BE IN JUNE

Cedarville College will celebrate its thirtieth anniversary commencement week in June.

The celebration will be held in connection with Cedar Day, June 4, and elaborate plans are being made. Commencement will be held Friday, June 6th, and Edgar A. Guest, poet on the staff of the Detroit Free Press will be the orator. Mr. Guest is one of the leading writers in the country and his verses are read by many thousands of people every day.

The baccalaureate service will be delivered on Sabbath evening, June 1, at the R. P. church. The Senior class play will be given Monday, the 2nd of June.

Wednesday, Cedar Day, will be the one gala day of the week with the celebration event and the usual class stunts on the campus. That same day the new Science Hall will be dedicated. Dr. J. Alvin Orr of Pittsburgh, Pa. will deliver the address of welcome.

The annual musical recital will be held Wednesday evening and the annual alumni banquet, Thursday night. There will be fifteen graduates in the Senior class this year.

CONGRESSMAN BRAND VOTES AGAINST CHILD LABOR BILL

Representative Charles Brand, the only member in the Ohio delegation in Congress who voted against the proposed child labor amendment to the constitution prohibiting the employment of all persons under 18 years of age, which passed the house Saturday, gives logical reasons for his vote against the measure.

He said: "I believe people should work before they are 18 years of age for their own good."

Mr. Brand also said he opposed the thought of parents of the nation being forced to ask some bureau in the Capitol, for permission to develop their children, by cultivating industrious habits by labor.

Thousands of children would be denied employment during vacation if 18 years and under. Child labor on the farm nor about the house is to be denied the parents but these same children could not work for a neighbor and receive pay.

It is just such legislation as this backed by labor unions and so-called "up-lift" organizations that is causing discontent among the American people and upholding by moral support at least the government in Washington and about our legislatures.

The average farmer as well as the thrifty parent can get an object lesson as to the necessity of sending well-balanced business men, or professional men of high standing or a good business farmer to the Ohio legislature from this as well as other counties.

COOLIDGE GIVEN GOOD MAJORITY; VOTE VERY LIGHT

The presidential preference primary held Tuesday, came near being no expression of the choice of the majority of the eligible voters. It made no difference whether in the city, the municipalities or the townships. The ratio of voters was about the same in one as the other.

Of the vote cast there was no question about how the people stand and the majority that was given President Coolidge was decisive, about six or seven to one over Senator Johnson. Former Governor James Cox won in any easy manner over William G. McAdoo. Both Coolidge and Cox will have solid delegations.

The result in the state was the same as in this county. Senator S. D. Fess had the honor of leading in the vote for delegates-at-large with Senator Willis second but by a smaller vote according to early returns.

Harry Daugherty, another candidate for delegate at large for Coolidge was the last man on the list but at that received a much larger vote than did any of the Johnson delegates.

There was more or less interest in the outcome for Daugherty as he was defeated four years ago for Harding. He ran about even with other delegates in some counties but in most of the big counties was heavily cut. It is said that the returns from his own county, Fayette, where the issue was to give him a vindication vote for his removal as attorney general by President Coolidge, was a great disappointment. He failed to get a complimentary vote for near first place and ran third.

President Coolidge received a much higher vote than any of the delegates. While state authorities expected the vote to reach a half million, which would mean that only one-fourth of the possible vote, it only ran around 200,000, the lowest state vote ever known.

Locally the election officials did not have enough to do to break the monotony of a long day. Although a few farmers were in town during the forenoon, many of them would not vote. In one precinct not a vote had been cast at noon and only about 18 during the day.

In the preferential vote between Coolidge and Johnson, the former received 51 in the village and the latter 21. In the township, Coolidge, 18, and Johnson 1. On the Democratic side Cox and McAdoo received two or three votes each while two voters wrote in the name of Alton Pomeroy.

In the local vote for delegate-at-large Senator Fess led in the four precincts with a total of 66 which was much more than any other delegate. In the same precincts Daugherty received a total of 60.

For delegate, Seventh District, the total vote for Frank L. Smith and Chas. W. Waggoner, was 42 each.

In the list of delegates to the state convention Dr. W. R. McChesney topped the vote with a total of 64. As for alternate W. J. Tarbox, received much the highest vote with 62.

NOT LIKELY THAT WE CAN HAVE CHANGE OF TIME

There has been some agitation here as to whether Cedarville would adopt the new time. Some few are in favor of it but as far as we have interviewed, more than seventy-five per cent oppose it.

The new time does not suit the farmers, in fact it can not be endorsed from their viewpoint. For that reason we think there is no chance for a change this year.

Yellow Springs and Osborn have adopted the first time but Cedarville and Jamestown are still on the old time. South Charleston, London and Springfield and Dayton as well as the larger cities are on fast time.

Xenia cannot go on fast time as the same question was defeated at the election a year ago, when a referendum election was held. The matter must now come from the people, in petition and another vote. Most of the factories are starting an hour sooner and quitting an hour earlier in the evening but not changing the clock.

W. A. ARTHUR LOST SIGHT OF HIS RIGHT EYE

W. A. Arthur has suffered an unusual affliction to his right eye in the loss of the sight almost over night. The only cause assigned by specialists is that a blood vessel has burst and brought on this trouble. Mr. Arthur has been in the Springfield City Hospital for several days for treatment but left yesterday for Columbus for additional examination. It is said that few cases of this kind are on record where the sight can be restored and all effort is now being devoted towards saving the left eye. Mr. Arthur has the sympathy of a very large circle of friends in his affliction.

Cal Overlooks Faith—A World of Mystery We Need Airships—A Human Bluebird—Sodom Found

President Coolidge advises American women to vote and interest themselves seriously in politics, and in maintaining our form of government.

Good advice. Luckily our form of government will maintain itself. And women are more and more taking an interest in politics.

Mr. Coolidge might say a few words to the men, millions of whom, presently, will forget all about the oil scandal, and everything else, because of their deep interest in Babe Ruth's home runs and similar important matters.

Out in the ocean, off Cape Race, is a gigantic iceberg, a mile long, towering a hundred feet in the air. To bump into it would mean destruction to any ship.

In old days men would have said, "Let us pray that no unfortunate ship will strike that fearful iceberg."

Praying is good, especially when accompanied by deeds. Now this Government sends the revenue cutter Moscoe, to trail along beside that iceberg as it moves slowly and majestically to its melting place near the equator. And as the big iceberg moves, the little cutter broadcasts warnings, telling ships to keep away. There's a sign of civilization.

Mr. Le Bontillier is president of the Long Island Railroad. Nevertheless, a rule Government seized his private car, stocked with choice liquors, and threatens to seize and sell the car.

That is pushing prohibition beyond the fake stage. Keeping beer from workmen is all right. Keeping champagne from the president of a great railroad is quite another matter.

This is a world of mysteries. We send messages by electricity, and we don't know what electricity is—only what it does. We send radio music and messages through the air without wires and say it goes through the "ether." We don't know what the ether is, and can't even prove that it EXISTS.

Now Dr. Bantling, a brilliant young scientist who discovered insulin, cure for diabetes, says that he discovered it, he is doing his best now to find out what it is. One thing is sure, it is an expensive product.

If Mrs. Buzzi had killed no one and was living at home she might die of appendicitis forty times, for all great New York State would care. But when she's sentenced to death it's different. She must not spoil that plan.

Pure insulin, enough to make a nice little pile of a twenty-five cent piece, would cost half a million dollars.

Facilitate and those who favor the League of Nations please read. The British House of Commons has just been informed that Japan is building 30 fighting craft, 13 of them submarines.

Japan goes ahead quietly with determination and intelligence. And she knows enough to build SUBMARINES. For what purpose do you suppose she is building them? Not to take the Mikado for a little trip, certainly.

The future war will be by submarines and flying machines. And this country should have plenty of both. More than any other nation. We can't afford it. They CAN'T. So much the better for peace.

The learned M. G. Kyle, on behalf of the Xenia Theological Seminary of Missouri, has carefully and scientifically explored that part of Palestine around the Lower Dead Sea, and announces discovery of the location of Sodom and Gomorrah.

Some graves there date back to Abraham. The discovery thoroughly confirms the Biblical story of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, says Mr. Kyle.

First it's the jaw bone of the missing link. You're told the gorilla is your cousin. Then comes proof of Sodom and Gomorrah, and you are comforted and so is the gorilla.

In the Sing Sing death house, where murderers are kept, lives Mrs. Annie Buzzi, convicted of killing a man named Schneider. She has appendicitis, so a first-class surgeon will operate on her, and endeavor to save her life for the electric chair.

That reminds you of the little boy scolding his sister for killing a big bluebottle fly. He wanted to kill the fly himself.

If Mrs. Buzzi had killed no one and was living at home she might die of appendicitis forty times, for all great New York State would care. But when she's sentenced to death it's different. She must not spoil that plan.

SENSATIONAL SERMONS

Some of the city churches are being treated to sensational sermons on current events, fads and the styles. The average city minister must of course resort to some of the unusual things to attract attention from the thousand and one counter attractions that are not found in smaller places. The other day we noticed where a city minister preached on the styles of women's dress now-a-days and the fashion of hobbled hair. No doubt the usual number of curiosity seekers were on hand to hear what was said. Probably what the minister had to say was true but it was the sensational subject that attracted the crowd.

Now comes to our attention the news report that a "Divine Healer" is preaching down in Georgia and doing wonderful things with the sick and afflicted. One blind man claims to have had his sight restored after twenty years. The most notable thing about this "healer's" preaching is that he has attracted the attention of Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, who claims to have been benefited after an affliction of years.

IT CAN BORROW MONEY
The sudden disappearance of all comment about the Spanish revolution and its results from the European news may have left some curious people wondering how Spain fares under the new regime and what view the people take of their government. Answer to queries of that kind may perhaps be found in the fact that the new government has just completed a financial transaction in which, through renewal of old loans and the sale of new bonds, it has floated a loan of $200,000,000 at fairly low rates of interest. All of the loan is taken at home and the new issue is oversubscribed, says the Detroit Free Press. Obviously Spaniards who have yards for investment are satisfied that their government is on a firm footing and that the country is safe from the bolshevik menace, which was believed to be threatening peace and stability when General Primo de Rivera and his associates took over the government and set things in order.

Literary critics who read the trend of modern literature as indicating the passing of romance are reading against the truth. Romance came early into the world, and it will stay late. From time to time literature may wander after new gods and romances may temporarily be laid aside, but not for long. Man invariably takes it back again to his heart when he craves the warming thrill that nothing else in writing can give. The Muse that holds sway over romance has made for herself a place from which no assaults by the so-called realistic or psychological or any other school can oust her. Romance has rendered man great service by cheering him in time of depression, by firing him to heroic action, by stirring him to high idealism, by shortening his hours of weariness. Other kinds of literature will not replace it, because they can't.

The maxim that ignorance of the law is no excuse came into being when there was little, if any, excuse for ignorance; when law was the expression of rules of conduct that could be sensed from knowledge of right and wrong; when it was simple and ran directly against obvious ills. But the increasing output of legislation threatens to crowd out the reason for the rule. The vast number of enactments on this and that subject, the rapidly growing list of "mala prohibita" or offenses arbitrarily so listed, the confusion of laws as between sections through which transient elements pass make it difficult even for students to learn them and practically impossible for the layman to know them. If the maxim is to retain its force and not work injustice, complication and multiplication of laws must cease.

French gallantry again to the fore. The latest fair one to be rescued from insult and abuse by the Frenchman is the earliest—none other than the cave woman. Ever since the cave age has been known the cave woman. In the minds of students of that far-off time, has occupied a position of mental superiority. But gallant French scientists now go to her rescue and, from relics and other evidence, would raise her to a ruling position. "According to them, she faded it over her head—who was not her master—with high hand. Man was the slave of her whims, the servant of her will. This would suggest that between them and not woman's position has changed very little. She has always been the boss."

Sunset and evening star and one clear call for me.
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,
Twilight and evening bell, and after that the dark
And may there be no sadness of farewell when I embark.
For tho' from out, are borne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the Bar.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for May 4
ASSYRIAN EXILE OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 17:1-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I will delight myself in Thy statutes, O Lord. Thy word shall not depart from my mouth."—Ps. 119:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How a Little Girl Helped a Great Soldier.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Israel Driven Into Exile.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Nation Punished for Its Sins.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Lessons From Israel's Downfall.

I. Israel Taken Into Captivity (vv. 1-10).

This was in fulfillment of that which Amos had predicted in the days of Jeroboam II at a time when the nation was at the height of its prosperity. The northern kingdom was ruled by nineteen kings, all of whom were wicked. Their wickedness was not because of lack of information or opportunity but in spite of it. God promised the first king His blessing if he would be loyal to Him. The kingdom departed from God and the apostasy thus began continued downward to the end. In the reign of Hoshea, the last king, the king of Assyria came and besieged Samaria and carried the children of Israel captive to Assyria, from which they never returned.

II. The Sins Which Caused Their Doom (vv. 11-16).

1. Conformed to the Ways of the Heathen (vv. 7-9). God had commanded them not to follow in the ways of the heathen, but these Israelites, instead of maintaining lives of separation, secretly did that which was displeasing to God. Secret sins, as surely as open ones, bring ruin, for all things are naked and open to Him with whom we have to do. The One who visits judgment upon the sinner knows all things.

2. Serve Idols (vv. 10-17). They not only compromised by "walking in the statutes of the heathen," but worshipped their gods. It was a short step from following in the statutes of the heathen to worshipping their gods. Before they worshipped idols they cast off the true God. Indeed idolatry came into the world because the race did not wish to retain God in its affections (Romans 1:21-23). They did not come in through ignorance but through willful perverseness. People today worshipping false gods have first cast off the authority of the living God. Man is a religious being. When he ceases to worship the true God he worships other gods.

3. They Were Rebellious (vv. 15-16). God by His promises had said unto them, "Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments," but they stubbornly refused His testimony, even rejected His statutes. God in love tried to save them. He sent some of the noblest and best prophets who ever spoke to men to persuade them to turn from their sins, such as Elijah and Elisha, but they stiffened their necks and plunged deeper into wickedness. This they did in defiance of God.

4. Caused Their Sons and Daughters to Pass Through Fire (v. 17). This was the dreadful Moloch worship, the most cruel rite of heathen worship. It was done by kindling a fire in a hollow metal image until its arms were red hot and placing live children therein to be burned to death. This was the depth to which the Israelites had sunk.

5. Resorted to Magical Practices (v. 17). When faith in the true God wanes men always turn to the magical arts. In this way the Israelites sold themselves to evil in the sight of the Lord and provoked Him to anger.

III. The Judgment Falls (v. 18).

At this stage of the drama, the curtain dropped. God could not be inactive longer.

1. God Was Very Angry. His anger is not raving fury but the revulsion of His holy nature against sin. God cannot tolerate sin in His presence. His wrath must strike. Though He waits long, the sinner must be paid and that always with compound interest. There is only one way to escape God's wrath; that is to turn from sin unto God through Jesus Christ.

2. Remove Them Out of His Sight. The land of Palestine is regarded as the land of God's sight—that is, the place of His manifested presence. These people, are still scattered among the nations and as a political organization they will never return to their land. The judgment was severe, but not more so than the sins merited. God had waited long. The despising of His grace eventually works ruin. Therefore, what judgment must fall upon the people who in the light of this day reject His grace and His mercy.

Practical Christianity

"Go," never spells "Stay." We need more religion in the so-called as well as in the soul—a walking as well as a talking religion. The trouble is not so much with non-church-going masses as the non-going church. We need not only a lookout committee but a "Go-out" committee.—H. G. Gilbund.

A Christian

A Christian is one who follows Christ, but is a leader of men.—Christian Herald.

Severe Penalty.

The penalty among the Hottentots for widows who marry again is a somewhat severe one. It is the rule among these people that before so marrying, a widow must cut off the joint of a finger and present it to her new husband on the wedding day.

When Art Is Praiseworthy.

Whatever is done without ostentation, and without the people's being witnesses of it, is more praiseworthy.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Give pleasure. Lose no chance in giving pleasure. For that is the essence and anonymous triumph of a truly loving spirit.

WHAT TO EAT

"What is one man's food is another man's poison." Each individual has desires peculiar to himself, and yet large part in making the appetite a normal one. Cereal is energy to one and a soggy, indigestible mess to another. Grapefruit is an appetizing, refreshing fruit, but some find it hard to digest. Coffee, the fragrant, exhilarating cup, a joy to many, is blamed for much of which it is innocent.

Food value is vastly important, but a well-served, dainty meal will send a person from the table happy and satisfied, in better condition to meet the day's work, than a well-balanced meal, scrambled and served with disorder.

A well-served, successful meal must begin the day before, either in thought and plan or in actual preparation. Buckwheat Griddle Cakes.—Take a yeast cake, soften it in one-quarter of a cupful of lukewarm water; add a little salt and enough buckwheat flour and water to make a thick batter. Beat well, thoroughly incorporate the yeast, and set away in a cool place until light. Set to rise at night in a warm place until morning. In the morning reserve one cupful of the mixture to start the cakes for the next morning, proceeding just as if the yeast had been added. To the batter to be used for the morning's cakes add soda and sour milk to make a thin griddle cake batter, more salt, if needed, and cook on a hot griddle. Serve these cakes with a little sausage, bacon or broiled ham, a cupful of good coffee and, if the digestion can stand it, a doughnut, which will make a good meal.

Curried Eggs.—For those who enjoy the curry flavor, this is a good dish: Cook six eggs in the shell until hard and cut into halves. Fry a teaspoonful of onion in a tablespoonful of butter; add a tablespoonful of cornstarch and two of flour, mixed with half a tablespoonful of curry powder. Pour over this, slowly, one and one-half cupfuls of stock, cream or milk, with a little salt for seasoning. Simmer until the onions are soft, then add the eggs and serve very hot on toast.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY WHEN SHOPPING

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN WOOLENS AND WORSTEDS

"Just what is the difference between woollens and worsteds?" is a familiar question to store clerks. And the answers given are various: That woolen is made from short wool; and that wool is carded and worsted combed, etc.

The best way, probably, to prove to yourself what the difference is, will be to unravel a thread from a piece of coarse flannel, which is woolen material, and compare it with a raveling from a fine serge, which is worsted.

You will notice that the fibers in the serge raveling lie even, parallel and tightly twisted together. That is what gives the finished fabric that smooth, hard surface, showing the weave very plainly, while the flannel raveling shows the fiber crisscrossed and lying in all sorts of directions, with loose ends that give woolens their fluffy, downy appearance. You can see at a glance that the woolen fibers have not been combed and straightened out to the same extent as the worsteds. Making woolen yarn is the shorter, easier process. Woolen yarns are used for such materials as blankets, broadcloth, flannel, chevot, Kersey and fancy dress goods where the weave is entirely oblique. In making worsted yarn, the wool fibers must be all combed and straightened out until they lie even and parallel as you saw them in the serge raveling. Many processes are required for this, and so worsted goods made from pure wool are expensive.

The first of worsteds and woolens is quite different. A worsted fabric, when finished, has a clear, bright well-defined pattern, and some close and finely woven. Generally the weave is quite distinct. Woolen cloth, on the other hand, is more elastic, the colors are more softly blended, and the threads are not so easily distinguished.

In general, a good quality of wool is used in worsteds. The long, staple wool is best suited for this purpose, and so is generally the one used. Shoddy and hard wastes are not used in worsted yarns, as the long staple wool cannot have shorter wool combed into it.

On account of the close twisting of the yarn, and the distinct weave, worsteds are apt to wear shiny in places. This can usually be remedied by dampening the place and rubbing it with a piece of rough cloth, afterwards pressing on the wrong side.

Popular Prices.

Money rewards, no matter how large, do not seem to get public duties half so well performed as popular praise.

To Protect Stored Fruit.

A wrapping paper chemically treated with bordeaux mixture is now being used to protect fruit from fungus infection during the storage period.

Fortnightly Club Entertains for Three Members

The members of the Fortnightly Club were entertained last Friday evening by Miss Ruth Patton at her home in Springfield. Three members who soon become brides were honored in a very charming manner. They are Miss Mildred White who becomes the bride of Mr. William Huston of Columbus; Miss Sarah Porter to Dr. Arthur Whitney of Suffern, N. Y., and Miss Marie Daugherty of the Exchange Bank, to Mr. Leon Carr of South Charleston. The decorations were in pink and white and fifteen ladies were present. Each of the becoming brides were presented with a set of solid silver tea spoons.

EACH VOTE CAST COST TAXPAYERS $2 OR MORE

The primary Tuesday was a rather expensive affair for the county. Out of 12,000 possible voters but about 1500 voted and the county must foot the bill amounting to $3,000. The largest vote cast in anyone precinct was at Wilberforce where 126 voters took the trouble to vote.

FORD GETS ANOTHER FARM

A deal was made Wednesday when Henry Ford purchased the Ray Johnson farm north of South Charleston for his railroad or a new town site. The farm contains 557 acres and according to reports cost $200 an acre. Ford still has 1800 acres of land under option that has not been taken over. He now has purchased outright over 1200 acres.

Chic Morning Frocks Hold to Simplicity

For morning frocks one may choose cotton, linen or silk materials, but in any case the designs must hold to simplicity. The straight-line silhouette, narrow belts and very little decoration are all rules to follow. As a finishing touch monograms are favored.

Smart Notes Appear in Utility Coats

Two essentials that spell success for the utility coat are comfort and smartness. The vogue for simplicity almost insures good style and the high quality of woolens promises well for comfort in coats that are to do all-round service for spring. One of them is shown here, made of Poret twill and undorned except for rows of tucks on the collar and sleeves.

Feet, Like Characters, Must Have the Right Start

Early years are formative years, physically and spiritually.

Be sure you're as careful of their feet as you are of their diet, their schooling, their manners—then they are not likely to have any foot trouble to blame on you in later years.

We have specialized in fitting Children's feet for over 25 years.

Breezes You Past the Repair Shops

COLUMBUS Gasoline is a poor friend of the repair shops. But it is a good friend to your car and to your purse. It is motor kindly. Its smooth power saves the cost of new parts and repairs that always result from jumpy, jerky performance. Its pure, unblended goodness prevents dilution of your lubricating oil. Its snappy start puts a lighter load on your battery. And its unusually big mileages per gallon mean the maximum of motoring economy. Fill with Columbus and pass up the repair shops.

The examination for Normal school entrance will be held in the McKinley building at Xenia, on Saturday, May 10 at 9:30 A. M. This is open to all who are likely to enter elementary teacher-training courses. No one will be admitted to a school for elementary teacher-training who has not taken this test. Applicant will need to bring only a pencil. A fee of 50 cents plus 10 cents for materials will be charged. This will not be especially hard, do not be frightened. The examination will be in charge of D. H. Sellers, County Supt. of Miami Co. and Miss Susanne M. Kochler, director Greene County Normal.

Friends here are concerned over the reports from Columbus as to the condition of Mrs. Frank Townsley, who was operated upon Saturday for polio at Grant Hospital. Mr. Townsley came home Tuesday morning and was much encouraged but early Wednesday he was called on information that his wife was much worse. All day Wednesday reports were not encouraging and not much change to be noticed yesterday.
